TACKLING POLICE MISOGYNY

THE CAMPAIGN

Since Wayne Couzens raped and murdered Sarah Everard on 3 March 2021, there have been multiple reviews and reports into the real crisis of misogyny within the UK police force. Having yet another review with no legal requirement for the police to see it through will not change anything.

We're lobbying government to implement police obligations to end misogyny within the force. We want to ensure the learnings and reports are placed on statutory footing (i.e. they are legally enforceable) and as a result, the police receive the funding necessary to carry out the recommendations and are held accountable for seeing them through.

THE MISOGYNY ISSUE

Sarah Everard.
Bibaa Henry and Nicole Smallman.
Sabina Nessa.

...and too many countless others - victims of systemic misogyny in the force.

Since Wayne Couzens raped and murdered Sarah Everard on 3 March 2021, there have been multiple reviews and reports into the real crisis of misogyny within the UK police force, such as the Casey Report and the Angiolini Inquiry.

Yet nothing has changed.
